

THE GOVERNOR OF TENNESSEE.

Of Late He Has Had Some Rather Lively Experiences.

Governor John P. Buchanan, of Tennessee, long a picturesque character, has suddenly become a man of national interest. Having repudiated the action of the Democratic state convention and announced himself as an independent candidate for governor, he had secured the indorsement of the Farmers' Alliance and seemed in a fair way to stir things up, when the miners' civil war broke out in east Tennessee under circumstances which, to say the least, add nothing to the governor's prestige.

When first nominated for governor in 1890 he was described as one of the most affable and agreeable of men. He owns a fine farm near Murfreesboro, where he has his own race tracks and gives much attention to the rein and saddle. He is described as an easy going statesman who is fond of a cigar and who enjoys a good joke. He was born in Williamson county, Tenn., Oct. 24, 1847, gained a common school education and at the age of sixteen ran off and joined the Confederate army. After many years' service as a very active Democrat and holding some minor offices he joined the farmers' movement and soon became president of the State Farmers and Laborers' union. This caused his nomination in 1890, but when the recent Democratic state convention met he declared that he had not received fair treatment, withdrew his name and announced himself as an independent candidate. There had already been trouble with the miners and he tried to induce the legislature to withdraw the convicts from the mines. That body refused.

HERE'S THE HALF DOLLAR.

Description of the World's Fair Souvenir Coin.

The souvenir half dollars which are to commemorate the Columbian exposition of 1893 will soon be out and are sharply criticised in advance. On the face is a head of Columbus, and this is the chief point of criticism, for it is modeled after the alleged portrait by Lotto, the correctness of which is challenged. In fact, it looks more like the face of a monk or recluse scholar than that of a navigator.

On the reverse side is a cameo of the Administration building at Chicago. This is not only good, but there is no question as to its authenticity. Mr. C. F. Gunther, of Chicago, has a portrait of Columbus painted by Sir Antonio

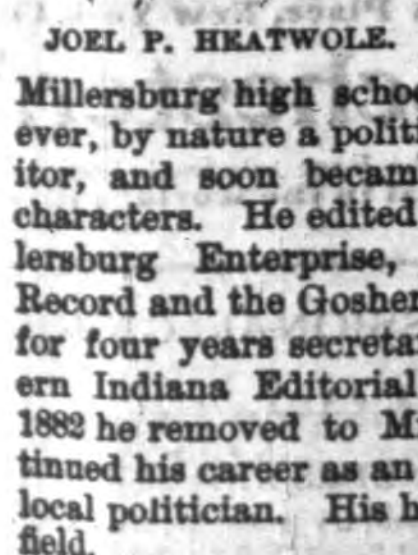

BOTH SIDES OF THE COIN.

Moro, which he wanted Director General Davis to adopt, claiming it to be the only authentic picture of the great navigator. The other was recommended by the director of the mint at Philadelphia. It is still barely possible that the design may be changed. If not, the people can console themselves as Artemus Ward did the Canadians who objected to his "wax statoot" of Sir Edmund Head—thus: "It looks like Sir Edmund Head or enny other man—that's the beauty of the statoot."

A Journalist in the Field.

Joel P. Heatwole, whom the Republicans of the Third Minnesota district have nominated for congress, is a newspaper man, an Indiana man and a German by parentage—three good points in a state like Minnesota, where the citizen of foreign birth or parentage is generally a "good candidate."

Heatwole was born in Elkhart, Ind., Aug. 28, 1856, gained an academic education quite early in life and at nineteen he became principal of the Millersburg high school. He was, however, by nature a politician and an editor, and soon became active in both characters. He edited in turn the Millersburg Enterprise, the Middleburg Record and the Goshen Times, and was for four years secretary of the Northern Indiana Editorial association. In 1882 he removed to Minnesota and continued his career as an editor and active local politician. His home is in Northfield.

Coins of Exceptional Value.—Where the operation involves so little trouble, it is perhaps advisable for a person to glance at the dates on the silver dollars and half dollars which may come into his possession, as many of them are valuable to numismatists. The silver dollars of 1794, 1838, 1839, 1861 and 1862 are worth twenty-five dollars each, while that of 1858 is valued at fifteen dollars. Silver half dollars of 1796 and 1797 are worth twenty-five dollars each.

On the one hand there's $500 in cash; on the other, there's a cure for your Catarrh. One of these two things has got to come to you—that's promised and agreed by the proprietors of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy.

But, do you think they'd make any such promise if they weren't sure that you'd be cured? That has come to thousands, through this Remedy, when everything else has failed. By its mild, soothing, cleansing and healing properties, the worst chronic cases of Catarrh in the Head have been perfectly and permanently cured.

That's the reason they're willing to take such a risk. This is what they say, clearly and plainly: "If we can't cure your Catarrh, no matter how bad your case or of how long standing, we'll pay you $500 in cash." If they have faith enough to say that, isn't it safe for you to have a little faith, too?

IT IS A DUTY you owe yourself and family to get the best value for your money. In your footstep by purchasing Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, you will get the best value for your money, as the same will be taken NO SUBSTITUTE.
